Responses From Aaa Rated Municipalities - Questionnaire Regarding the Governor's Proposal: City and Town Contribution to Teacher's Pensions
Responses Dated 3/15 - 17/2017

1. Are you adjusting the timing of your budget process until you get more certain information from the State?

2. How do you plan to account for the proposed contribution to teacher's pensions in your budget planning?

3. If you include teacher's pension contribution in your budget, how are you covering it?

4. If you do not include it in your budget, and it comes to fruition, how are you going to handle it?

Darien	No	Unsure	-	The BOF will begin their budget deliberations next week. The idea of a supplemental appropriation and tax bill has been proposed. At this time, the BOF has not had any conversation about how to handle the teacher's pension contribution.
Farmington	No	Not Including It	-	Other - A combination of spending reductions and movement of monies appropriated for other purposes. (i.e., transfer appropriation from capital budget)
Glastonbury	No - By Charter we have to have it done by 3/28. Unless, not withstanding language is adopted this is what we are going with for now.	Not Including It	-	Spending reductions, Other - Depends on the timing of adoption of the state budget. If done before tax bills go out possible adjustment in Mill rate combined with spending reductions. However, nothing is yet set as it is still in the discussion stages with the Town Council so this is subject to change.
Greenwich	No	Not Including It	-	Use of Surplus
Madison	No	Not Including It	-	Spending Reductions
New Canaan	No	Not Including It	-	We will determine the best course of action once we know what is actually going to be pushed down to us. We have sufficient Fund Balance to cover the projected one year hit, but all options are on the table.

Norwalk	No	Not Including It	We will decide in April if the contribution proposal is going to be required or not. If so, we will have to request an increase to the city's budget cap in order to make the payment. Norwalk has an approximate equal offset in its ability to tax the hospitals that were previously tax exempt if the proposal goes through so it should not have a dramatic effect on the city's ultimate mill rate increase.	See answer #3 - We don't think that we'll need a supplemental increase in mill rate as we'll just bill the hospitals for their newly taxable properties.
Ridgefield	No	Unsure	Unsure	Unsure
West Hartford	No - We are not altering our budget adoption deadline, but hopefully, legislation will pass that will provide all of us more time to react to any additional information as to where the Governor's proposed budget is headed.	The W. Hartford Superintendent of Schools has identified the Teacher's Pension Payment as an education expense and has included that expense in his budget proposal to the BOE. The Town Manager has incorporated the Superintendent's proposed budget in his overall Town proposed budget.	The Expense is included in the Town Mill rate calculation for 2018	-
Weston	No	Unsure	-	Supplemental Taxes, Spending Reductions, Use of Surplus

Westport	No	Not Including It	We presented our budget with minimal State funds. State Revenue Sharing $275,000 and Hospital Pilot or Tax at $173,738, nothing else. We are waiting to see the outcome of the State's budget which we assume will be in mid-September at which time we would produce a supplemental tax bill on Real Estate. It has been suggested that we do not send the MV and Personal property bills out in June holding off until the State budget is set. Since these two categories make up only 4% of tax receipts, it will eliminate duplicate billings, some of which may be only a dollar or two. Therefore, we may hold off and send them in October as original bills.	Supplemental Taxes, Use of Surplus
Wilton	No	Not Including It	-	Supplemental Taxes, Spending Reductions
Woodbridge	No	Unsure	If Included: Use of Surplus, Reduce Expenses in Other Areas	Spending Reductions, Use of Surplus

Hi Linda,

The Parks and Recreation commission has put off the vote on increasing the Penfield rates until their April meeting.

I hope to have more information at that time.

Thanks.
