

Fairfield First Selectman Mike Tetreau

Mike Tetreau has been proudly serving as Fairfield's First Selectman since June, 2011.

As someone who grew up in Fairfield, Mike has a deep appreciation for the many different people who live here and all that the Town has to offer. His record of public service going back 20 years reflects his commitment to continuous improvement and the highest standards for the Town of Fairfield.

Mike has served with distinction on the Board of Finance, Representative Town Meeting, Town Plan and Zoning Commission, and the Town's Financial Planning Advisory Committee, where he spearheaded the effort to develop a five-year financial and capital plan for the Town. As chair of a special committee charged with maximizing state reimbursements for school building projects, Mike ensured that Fairfield received millions of dollars it was due.

As First Selectman of one of the State's largest communities, Mike's strong financial leadership has resulted in Fairfield having the lowest tax increases in the last few years---while providing key town services. Under Mike's sound management, Fairfield has benefited in having one of the best education systems in the state, the busiest libraries in the state, a revitalized Senior Center and a thriving downtown with an array of fine restaurants and businesses. Fairfield is the best value among neighboring communities.

Mike is a Roger Ludlowe High School and Princeton University graduate and is well-known for his leadership in rejuvenating Pop Warner Football. He is proud of his roots and no matter how far Mike's career prior to him serving as Fairfield First Selectman had taken him, he has always returned to the hometown where his parents lived for more than 50 years – and where Mike's dad was a well-known coach, educator and administrator. Mike, one of three sons, likes to say his family grew up with the Town.
